Ages: 4 - 10+

Time: 25 - 45 minutes

PROCEDURE

Step 1: Give each pair or small group of children a few paint color cards.

Step 2: Challenge the kids to walk around and find the colors in nature. Encourage them to look up, down, and around.

Step 3: As they locate the colors, they can record their findings in a journal with words or pictures. A digital camera can also be used to document the findings.

Step 4: For very young children, the activity leader can record the findings.

Step 5: At the end of the activity, children can compare what they found with others.
